VARIANCES FROM THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE ZONING ORDINANCE

WHAT IS A VARIANCE?

It is an exception to a requirement set forth in the City of Wakefield Zoning Ordinance. For example, if the zoning ordinance requires a structure to be 30 feet from the lot line and the owner wants to build a garage 15 feet from the lot line, the owner needs to obtain a dimensional variance of 15' in order to build the garage.

WHEN IS A VARIANCE NECESSARY?

A variance may be required when a landowner wishes to improve or develop property but, due to a practical difficulty unique to the property, are unable to comply with the strict language of the Zoning Ordinance.

CAN ANYONE APPLY FOR A VARIANCE?

No. Only those persons who own the land or their agent may submit an application for a variance.

WHO DECIDES IF I WILL GET A VARIANCE?

The members of the Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) have the power to effect any variation in the zoning ordinance in specific cases. To grant a variance, at least three (3) members must vote in favor of the variance. In deciding a request for a variance, the ZBA shall be governed by the principles and standards defined in Title XV §155.276 of the City of Wakefield Zoning Ordinance, and applicable State law.

WHAT IS THE ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS?

The Wakefield City Council acts as the ZBA. Therefore, the ZBA consists of five (5) members. The Michigan Zoning Enabling Act of 2006 gives the Zoning Board of Appeals the power to do the following:

- Hear appeals to grant variances from the requirements set forth in the Zoning Ordinance
- Render decisions based on interpretation of text contained within the Zoning Ordinance
- Render decisions based on interpretation of the boundaries contained within the Zoning Map
- Hear appeals of an administrative order, requirement, decision or determination made by an administrative official charged with the enforcement of the Zoning Ordinance.

The ZBA does not have authority to hear an appeal by an aggrieved person regarding a decision of the Planning Commission on an application for special use or site plan review.

The ZBA does not have the authority to grant a land use variance.

Non-Use Variance Questionnaire

A Non-Use Variance is a variance from any standard requirement of the ordinance such as deviation from setbacks, parking, landscaping, density, height or bulk regulations. A non-use variance requires you to prove practical difficulty. The standards the Zoning Board of Appeals will use in determining whether a practical difficulty exists require you to provide responses to the following questions. Additional information may be attached.

A. How will strict compliance with restrictions governing area, setback, frontage, height, bulk, density or other non-use matters, unreasonably prevent the owner from using the property for a permitted purpose or will render ordinance conformity unnecessarily burdensome?

Lot size to small without getting closer to property line

B. How will a variance do substantial justice to the applicant, as well as to other property owners?

Allow more parking

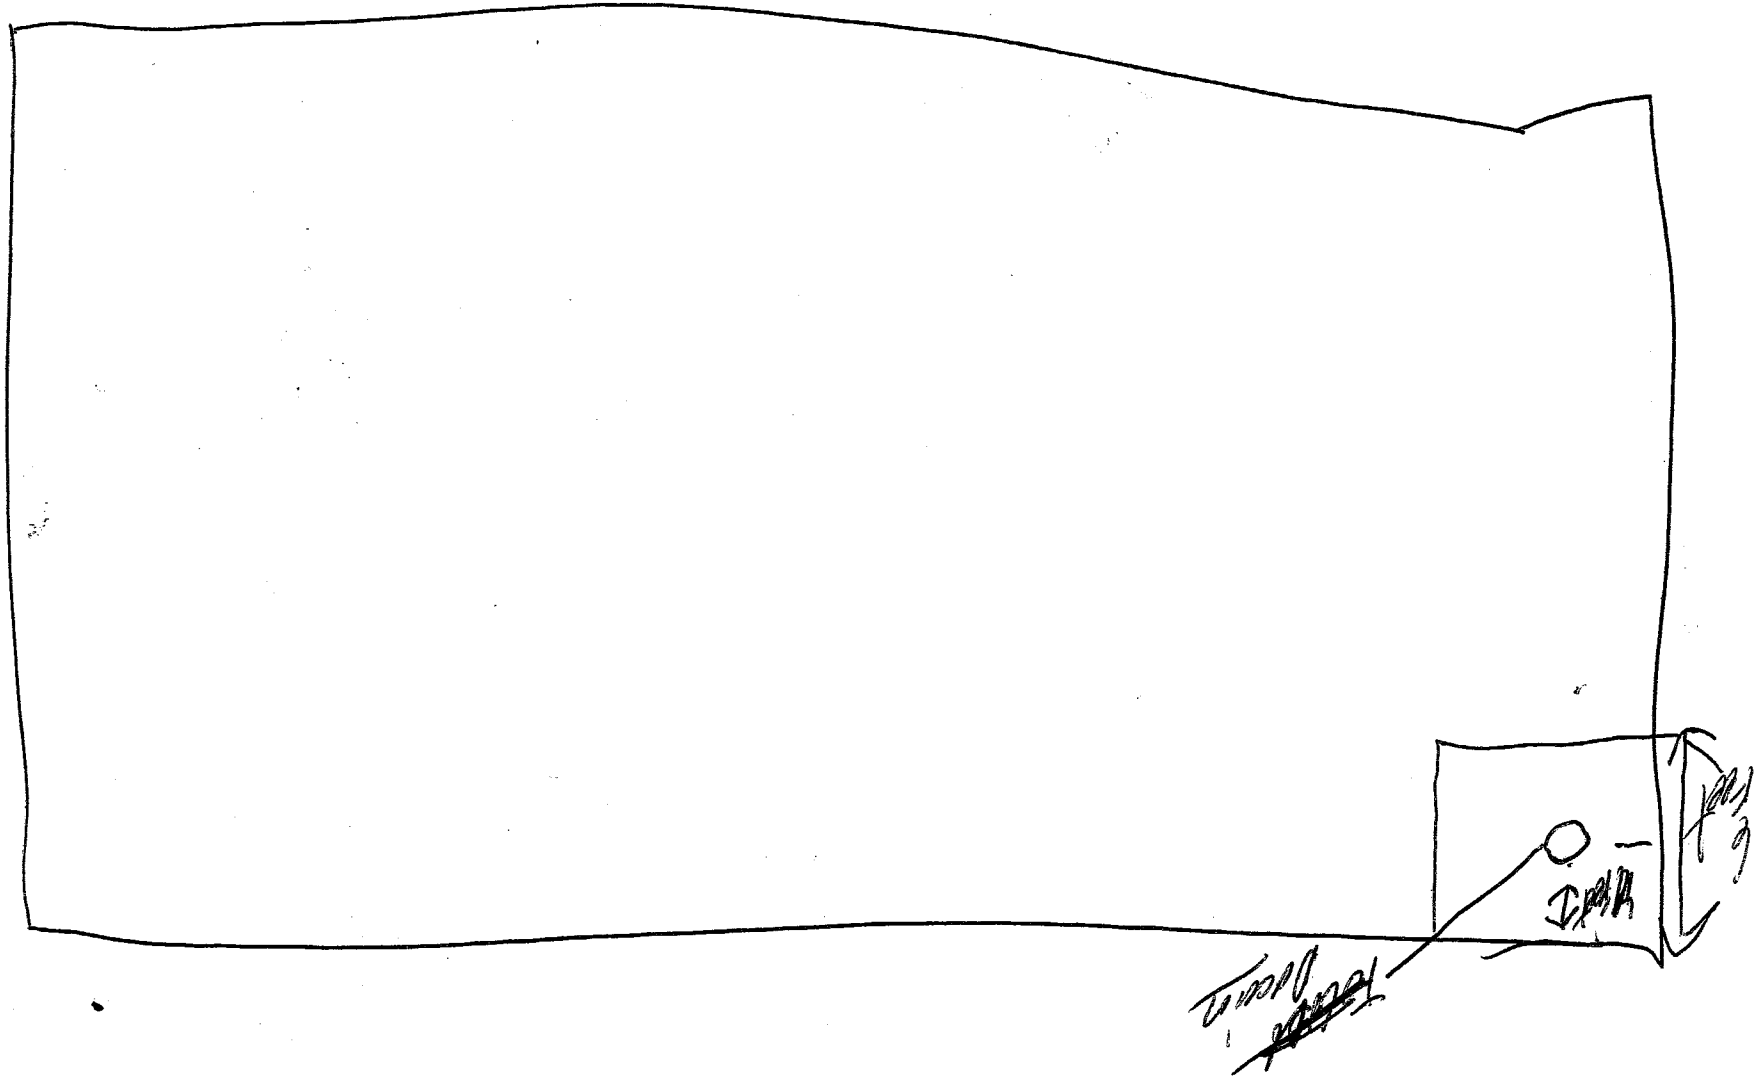
C. Is the variance requested the minimum variance needed to provide substantial relief to the applicant and/or be consistent with justice to other property owners?

D. What are the unique circumstances peculiar to the property and not generally applicable in the area or to other properties in the same zoning district, which would require this variance?

This is a small business and we need more parking

E. Explain why the need for the requested variance is not self created (due to the actions of the applicant, owner, or their predecessors).


Small lot size for needs
